Report Site for Federal Prison Farm Selected

Tract in Pine County Near Sandstone Reported Selected,
Advices From Washington Disclose

A site near Sandstone, Minn., in Pine county has been selected for the new federal prison farm in Minnesota. It was reported today in private advices to the Daily Dispatch from Washington.

No official action has yet been taken by Federal Supervisor of Prisons Sanford Bates.

The site under discussion is located two miles east of Sandstone with three miles of frontage on the Kettle river. It is on highway No. 1, about midway between the Twin Cities and Duluth. Seven sites were under consideration during the past eight months. They included property near Hinckley, Brainerd, Little Falls, Litchfield, Kimberly and Island, St. Louis county.

A $250,000 appropriation for the new prison was authorized by congress at the last session. The farm will be run on a self supporting basis, the prisoners raising sufficient garden truck and grain to provide for all inmates. Prison labor will be used to clear the timber from the selected site, if that is necessary.

GOVERNMENT HEAD RESIGNS AFTER ROW ON RELIGION

PREMIER ZAMORA OF SPAIN RESIGNS AFTER OPPOSING MEASURES AGAINST RELIGION

Madrid, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Niceto Alcalá Zamora, head of the provisional government, informed the United Press today:

"I have offered my resignation as premier."

Rumors that he had been preparing to resign were growing increasingly prevalent. Members of the cabinet did their utmost to dissuade him pointing out that if he resigned the minister of the interior, Miguel Marua, also would resign, thus causing a cabinet crisis.

Alcalá Zamora, a faithful Catholic, has consistently opposed extreme measures against religion, during the debate in the cortes. On Oct. 7 he resigned when he was criticized in the cortes for his attitude, but withdrew the resignation when the clash was smoothed over and Jiménez Asua, president of the constitutional committee, who had opposed Alcalá Zamora, presented his own resignation.

Alcalá Zamora's resignation today came after adoption by the cortes of article 24 of the constitution, expelling the Jesuits and strictly regulating other religious orders. He had voted against the article.

The cabinet was called to consider the situation. It was feared if Maury and other adherents of Alcalá Zamora resigned, the entire ministry might have to quit although no decision had yet been reached.

"I am not going to the cabinet meeting because I do not intend to continue the premiership," Alcalá Zamora said. "I lack the moral power to continue at the head of the government after the vote which settled the religious question."

Release Salesman Held in Bank Closing Case

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—After questioning by state criminal bureau operatives today, Belt E. Kelso, Minneapolis salesman, was freed of all charges of guilt in connection with the closing of the Olmsted County Bank and Trust Co.

Kelso was arrested by the criminal bureau on a warrant charging that he maliciously and falsely made statements that caused the run which forced the bank's closing.

Railroad Car Loadings Largest This Year

Washington, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Car loadings on American railroads in the week ended October 3 were the largest of any week so far this year and showed a greater than seasonal gain over the preceding week, according to figures released today by the American Railway Association.

Loadings amounted to 777,637 cars, an increase of 39,808 cars over the previous week but a decrease of 193,418 cars from the corresponding week of 1930 and of 402,110 cars from the corresponding week of 1929. In past years, the week of October 3 has seen little change in loadings or a small recession from the late summer peak.

Representative About "Ready to Retire"

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Representative R. W. Hitchcock, Hibbing, today admitted that he had "about made up his mind to retire" at the expiration of his present term in the Minnesota house of representatives. Hitchcock was on his way to the Yorktown sequi-centennial celebration of the battle of Yorktown. Hitchcock is serving his seventh term and has been chairman of the important appropriations committee during the past four sessions.

Program Steadies Business

UNEMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE
REPORTS IMPROVEMENT IN MANY SECTIONS

Washington, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—President Hoover's financial relief program has steadied business conditions in many sections, stimulating the improvement afforded by fall trade, according to reports to the Gifford unemployment relief organization.

Conditions were reported improved in various industrial sections, including New England, New York City, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, Birmingham, Louisville, Chattanooga, Nashville, Little Rock, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco.

In some sections, warm weather has retarded anticipated activity in fall buying and conditions were reported stationary in numerous areas. Agricultural regions were behind the large industrial centers, the latter being most immediately and directly influenced by the stabilizing effect of President Hoover's financial relief program.

Employment in New York state increased 3 per cent and pay rolls about 2 per cent in September over August. A scheduled five point advance in steel operations in Buffalo will raise production in that district to 40 per cent of capacity, the highest rate for one zone in the country.

SEE BENEFITS TO AGRICULTURE FROM CREDIT POOL

BANKS IN FARM COMMUNITIES
WILL BE ABLE TO REALIZE ON FROZEN ASSETS

Washington, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Officials of the Hoover administration foresaw today indirect benefits to depressed agriculture through operations of the $500,000,000 National Credit corporation set up by private bankers.

Banks in agricultural sections will be enabled to realize on "frozen assets" through services of the banking pool. Credit will be available to put banks in a better position to lend for agricultural purposes. Banks also will be enabled to ease up on their demands which will react, in turn, to lessen the pressure upon farmers and livestock producers who have obligations outstanding.

The total of agricultural loans outstanding is tremendous. Various banking agencies in the federal reserve system, including federal reserve member banks, farm land banks, joint stock land banks and intermediate credit banks, had a total of $3,238,069,276 on June 30 this year.

Of the total of $388,124,000 in real estate loans on farm land held by member banks of the reserve system at that time, $260,218,000 was held by country banks. Mortgage loans of the federal land banks aggregates $1,181,541,084 and of the joint stock land banks, $533,097,876. Loans and discounts of the intermediate credit banks amounted to $134,766,417.

The administration has proposed legislation to aid agriculture directly by doubling the capitalization of the farm land banks by an appropriation of $60,000,000. This will be considered by congress. This expansion would permit further extensions on loans of hard-pressed farmers.

Edison Weaker But in
No Immediate Danger

West Orange, N. J., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Thomas A. Edison grew increasingly weaker last night but his physician thinks there is no cause for immediate concern.

The aged inventor has now gone for 9 days without taking any fluid and for a period of 120 hours without any food except 6 spoonfuls of stewed pears.

The official bulletin issued this forenoon by Dr. Hubert S. Howe read:

"Mr. Edison rested quietly all night. There are indications of increasing weakness but nothing has developed to cause any immediate concern."

CHARGE SOLDIER WITH KIDNAPING SHAKOPEE OFFICER

OPERATIVES ALSO CHARGE FT.
SNELLING RECRUIT WITH MANY ROBBERIES

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—State criminal bureau operatives today charged that Private Acey Hart, Third Infantry, Fort Snelling, carried on a series of burglaries and holdups in his leisure time from duties at the fort.

Private Hart waived a preliminary hearing in municipal court today on charges of first degree assault against Deputy Sheriff Lester Brown and was bound over to the district court.

Hart, who officials claim has signed a statement confessing the kidnaping of Brown, will be arraigned late today in district court and was expected to plead guilty. The charge carries a term of 10 years.

A large quantity of merchandise found in Hart's quarters was being checked over for identification with recent burglaries. Hart, it was revealed, was a servant for Major H. J. Keeler at the fort and when Keeler was absent from the post, Hart was free to leave the post.

Hart always had plenty of money, fellow soldiers at the fort pointed out. Often he loaned sums of money to the other soldiers. Payments on his automobile were being maintained.

ADMITS CAPONE PLACED LARGE BETS ON RACES

BOOKMAKER SAYS GANG CHIEF
TAIN DROPPED ABOUT
$12,000 IN 1925

Federal Building, Chicago, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—A race track bookmaker testified today that Al Capone placed four or five bets with him every day during two racing seasons and lost on almost every race. The witness, Milton Held, was the first called by the defense in the gang chief's income tax fraud trial.

Held estimated Capone's losses during the 1925 Hawthorne season at $12,000 and said he lost between $8,000 and $10,000 on the ponies in 1924.

Held, who said he had known Capone for 10 years, explained that there were six races a day at Hawthorne and that Capone made four or five bets a day during the 30-day season. "He won very few bets that I remember," said the witness. "I should estimate that in the 1924 season he lost between $8,000 and $10,000."

"At Hawthorne in 1925 he lost about $12,000."

Although he insisted Capone had placed hundreds of bets with him, the bookmaker could not recall the names of any horses the gang leader picked. Held denied ever having been in any gambling place in Cicero.

In prosecution testimony, Capone has been represented as owner of several big gambling places that took in as much as $150,000 a year. Held said Capone paid all his losses in cash.

By United Press
The United States seemed today likely to be represented in the League of Nations council sessions considering the Sino-Japanese difficulties in Manchuria. Washington reported hope for an early settlement of the difficulties.

Other developments included: Possible misunderstanding over movements of American submarines in Manchurian waters on a routine assignment averted by removal of submarines.

An agreement reported to have ended threat of civil war in China between Canton and Nanking governments.

Japanese troops dispersed 5,000 demobilized Chinese soldiers in Manchuria without incident.

Suggestion at Geneva that an economic boycott against nations engaging in war be enforced if settlement of Sino-Japanese troubles was not effected.

Geneva, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—The council of the League of Nations, awaiting the unprecedented event of the United States participating actively in its councils, tried vainly to make progress in the Manchurian dispute today.

The council, at a secret, informal meeting, decided to invite the United States to join formally in the deliberations. Word was impatiently awaited from Tokyo of Japan's consent, unanimous approval of the council members being required for participation of a non-member.

Participation of the United States in the efforts of the League of Nations council to obtain a peaceful settlement of the Sino-Japanese conflict in Manchuria appeared certain today.

An informal and secret session of the league decided to invite United States participation provided Japan and China were willing. Aristide Briand, president of the council, was authorized to consult Dr. Alfred Sze and Kenkichi Yoshizawa, respective heads of the Chinese and Japanese league delegations.

If the United States participates in the council's deliberations, the American representative will have the same rights as other council delegates but no vote.

The council desires American participation in order to know Washington's attitude on all proposals for action, thus avoiding decisions unacceptable to the United States. Quick action by Secretary of State Stimson appeared today to have sponged out what might have developed into an inflammatory incident in the delicate Manchurian situation.

As a matter of naval routine, the commander of American naval forces in Asiatic waters ordered seven submarines and a tender moved forward around the Shantung peninsula to Chefoo, the nearest point opposite Japan's Manchurian base at Port Arthur. Some press dispatches described this as a strategic move pointed at the line of communications between Japan and Manchuria.

Immediately on discovering last night that this movement had taken place three or four days ago, Secretary of State Stimson induced the navy department to withdraw the submarines and send them south to Shanghai, hundreds of miles from Manchurian waters, to evade any possible suspicion that a demonstration had been intended for moral effect on the Manchurian difficulty stage when the United States is cooperating with the League of Nations council, now meeting in Geneva, in efforts to reconcile China and Japan.

The state department was confident, however, that the prompt withdrawal of the submarines would quiet any misapprehensions that might exist in Japan.

Minneapolis Hoodlum to Federal Prison

Gems of Peril

CHAPTER I
MARY HARKNESS, dancing with Dirk Ruyter's arm about her, thought that she had never been so happy in her life. Not even that night in the garden a short while ago when she and Dirk had first known they loved one another. Not tonight at dinner with all her friends grouped about the flower-banked table. Mr. Jupiter proposing to her. Everyone's eyes upon them, merry and mocking, and trying to appear surprised.

Not even yesterday when she had tried on before the pier-glass in her room the first Paris dress she had ever owned. All these were rungs in the ladder of her present happiness. But when you were as completely, as idiotically blissful, as she was at this moment, you had to do something about it, and this was what she wanted to do—just dance, dance on forever with Dirk's arm about her, his dark lean face close to hers, his lips at her ear murmuring tender banter, while the slow rhythm of the tango carried them dreamily down the length of the great ballroom on its sensuous tide. A Paris dress! And five years ago she couldn't have bought one on Fifth Avenue, not even at a marked-down sale. That dress, like everything else good that had come to her in the years since her father had died, a suicide, and her mother soon after, had been the Jupiters' gift. She owed them everything—even Dirk, in a way. If the younger member of Ruyter and Ruyther, Mr. Jupiter's personal attorneys, had not had to make so many visits to the house with a satchel of legal papers when the old gentleman's rheumatism kept him indoors she and Dirk might never have met.

There had been an interval that was painful for both the Harkness children to remember. Mary's hopeless novice and bungler at typing, pitting her superior "advantages" against the experience of other girls and losing out often. Eddie tramping about after office boys' jobs and plainly relieved when he did not get them.

At last, of course, there was the friend of a friend of a friend who knew of the children's plight and knew also the Jupiters and their peculiar needs. Someone who belonged in that world to which Mrs. Jupiter was a class newcomer was just what she needed in a secretary. Later, when Mary had had to give up the small apartment she and her brother shared because her scruples interfered with his "life," she had felt that life could only be unutterably dreary even in such luxurious surroundings as the Jupiter home, separated from the "kid" brother she had always looked after and loved. But Eddie did not like to live where her money said the rent; it gave her the right to say what he might and might not do. Well, he had been "on his own" for a year now and he seemed to be making it. He had no job, but there was a fair living to be picked up at the race-tracks he told her, and in other ways he did not elucidate. There was nothing she could do about it except worry a little and make him promise to come to her first if ever he were in need. She had not seen him of late, but she had been too happy and engrossed in her love-affair to think about it much.

Political Inferno Flares in Louisiana as Two Sets of Officials Move to Defend Their Respective Offices

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—The sovereign state of Louisiana today had two U. S. "senators," two "governors," two "lieutenant-governors," all battling to defend their "offices."

All 67 militiamen in the local detachment of the National Guard were called out as result of an attempted coup d'etat by Lieutenant Governor Dr. Paul Cyr.

Cyr, a 200-pound curly grey haired native of the Creole country, went to Shreveport yesterday and took the oath of office as governor. It was one move in his campaign to force out of office the fiery tempered, pot-luker dunking Huey P. Long, governor and senator-elect of the state of Louisiana.

"Long," said Cyr, his bitter enemy of two years' standing, "is out as governor so he can't be in. He can't hold two offices at once. He was elected senator, and that makes him senator, not governor."

The tow-headed Long had broke into the news prints of the metropolitan dailies by entertaining distinguished guests while garbed in the most unconventional scarlet, pink or green silk pajamas, and was in New Orleans when he heard that Cyr had declared himself governor.

"Fine," said Long. "That rids Louisiana of Paul Cyr. By taking the oath as governor he has forfeited his job as lieutenant governor. That makes Senator Alvin King lieutenant governor."

"That's right," Senator Alvin King, president pro tem of the state senate, agreed. And he hurried forthwith to Baton Rouge to take the oath as lieutenant governor.

Almost immediately Senator-Governor Long left New Orleans for the capital. And at the same time it was learned the troops were mobilizing in the capital.

Meanwhile two patrols of state highway police had been stationed at the capital and at the executive mansion.

Long explained he feared Cyr might attempt to take possession of both, and was just taking no chances.

MERIT SYSTEM IN NAMING OF GAME WARDENS ADOPTED

All present wardens will be secure in their positions but subject to rules and regulations and may be dismissed for cause.

A merit board of three members will have charge of examinations for the eligible list.

The director of game and fish must make appointments from the highest three in each district.

Examinations will be graded on the following basis: knowledge of wild life in Minnesota, 30 per cent; practical training and experience, 30 per cent; personality and character, 30 per cent; and knowledge of game and fish laws, 10 per cent.

CROP CONDITIONS BELOW AVERAGE, FORECAST SHOWS

FORECAST YIELDS OF WINTER WHEAT AND BARLEY INDICATE AVERAGE

St. Paul, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Preliminary and forecast yields of all crops except winter wheat and barley were below the 1924-1928 average in Minnesota, Paul H. Kirk, agricultural statistician of the federal-state crop reporting service announced today.

Barley, due to an increase in acreage in the past few years is the only major crop to show a preliminary production larger than the five-year average. Forecast yields of winter wheat were reported on the average.

Spring wheat and rye were slightly below the average with crop yields spotted, depending on local showers and heat waves as well as insect damage.

For corn and potatoes the weather during September was none too favorable, Kirk said. On the last two days of August killing frosts were reported in several localities. Pastures improved during the last month, it was said.

Farm labor supply was reported at 121 per cent of normal while demand was 63 per cent of normal.

Gems of Peril

MARY HARKNESS, dancing with Dirk Ruyther's arm about her thought that she had never been so happy in her life. Not even that night in the garden a short while ago when she and Dirk had first known they loved one another. Not tonight at dinner with all her friends grouped about the flower-banked table. Mr. Jupiter proposing a toast. Everyone's eyes upon them, merry and mocking, and trying to appear surprised.

Not even yesterday when she had tried on before the pier-glass in her room the first Paris dress she had ever owned. All these were rags in the ladder of her present happiness. But when you were as completely, as idiotically blissful, as she was at this moment, you had to do something about it, and this was what she wanted to do—just dance, dance on forever with Dirk's arm about her, his dark lean face close to hers, his lips at her ear murmuring tender banter, while the slow rhythm of the tango carried them dreamily down the length of the great ballroom on its sensuous tide.

A Paris dress! And five years ago she couldn't have bought one on Fifth Avenue, not even at a marked-down sale. That dress, like everything else good that had come to her in the years since her father had died, a suicide, and her mother soon after, had been the Jupiters' gift. She owed them everything—even Dirk, in a way. If the younger member of Ruyther and Ruyther, Mr. Jupiter's personal attorneys, had not had to make so many visits to the house with a satchel of legal papers when the old gentleman's rheumatism kept him indoors she and Dirk might never have met.

There had been an interval that was painful for both the Harkness children to remember. Mary, a hopeless novice and bungler at typing, pitting her superior "advantages" against the experience of other girls and losing out often. Eddie tramping about after office boys' jobs and plainly relieved when he did not get them.

At last, of course, there was the friend of a friend of a friend who knew of the children's plight and knew also the Jupiters and their peculiar needs. Someone who belonged in that world to which Mrs. Jupiter was a crass newcomer was just what she needed in a secretary. Later, when Mary had had to give up the small apartment she and her brother shared because her scruples interfered with his "life," she had felt that life could only be unutterably dreary even in such luxurious surroundings as the Jupiter home, separated from the "kid" brother she had always looked after and loved. But Eddie did not like to live where her money "aid the rent; it gave her the right to say what he might and might not do."

Well, he had been "on his own" for a year now and he seemed to be making it. He had no job, but there was a fair living to be picked up at the race-tracks, he told her, and in other ways he did not elucidate. There was nothing she could do about it except worry a little and make him promise to come to her first if ever he were in need. She had not seen him of late, but she had been too happy and engrossed in her love-affair to think about it much.

PROBE INDICATES FIRE AT BRAINERD HOME INCENDIARY

DEPUTY STATE FIRE MARSHAL
MAGNUSON INVESTIGATES
BLAZE AT RITARI HOME

Attaches of the state fire marshal's office today were completing their investigation of a fire early Sunday at a house at 1123 East Norwood street, Brainerd, owned by Ernest Ritari, Squaw Point resort operator.

Damages to the extent of about $300 resulted from the blaze which occurred shortly after 4:20 a. m. Sunday, according to George Magnuson, St. Cloud, deputy state fire marshal. Magnuson said that the structure was insured for $2,000. No insurance was carried on the contents, he said.

Indications are that the house was set afire from the outside, Magnuson said his investigation showed. "It appears as if the two-story frame structure was ignited from the porch. The fire ate through the frame partition and into the interior, before it was discovered," he revealed.

According to Magnuson, the Ritari is living at their summer home on Squaw Point. Two bachelors, named Kedd Carlson and Tom Sirla, had been living at the place but neither were at home at the time, Magnuson said his investigation indicated.

Magnuson stated that he had learned that Ritari had had some trouble with a previous tenant over rent sometime ago. He said that court action was hinted, Magnuson today is investigating this angle.

Gamble Stores Strike at Unemployment; Hire 165 New Men

Gamble Stores—operating Auto Supply and Radio Stores in the northwest—have added 165 men to their personnel during the past week.

These men are to assist principally in the sale of new radios.

This move is in line with Gamble's Policy as announced last January of continuing their expansion and sales programs—at this time when continued action of this kind will do much to help unemployment and better business conditions generally. As evidence of this policy, Gamble Stores have opened twenty-five new stores during 1931—increasing their personnel by 50 men for the operation of these stores—in addition to the 165 new men just hired.

TRUCK WRECKS CAR OF ERNEST RITARI IN HIGHWAY CRASH

WARBA DRIVER FACES CHARGE OF CARELESS DRIVING IN PILLAGER COURT

Court prosecution and possibly civil action today awaited Ralph Anderson, truck driver, Warba, Minn., charged by Ernest Ritari, former Brainerd alderman, as the cause of an accident on State Trunk Highway No. 2 ten miles west of Brainerd last night.

Anderson was placed under arrest by officers of the Minnesota Highway Patrol and lodged in the city jail. Because the accident occurred in Cass county officers planned to arraign the truck driver before a justice of the peace at Pillager this afternoon on the charge of careless driving.

Ritari stated today that his automobile was wrecked in the crash. He accused Anderson of drunkenness and on the wrong side of the road.

"I slowed down to about five miles an hour because the lights of the approaching truck were so strong I did not want to take a chance. The truck swerved towards me and struck my car on its side. The truck then continued for about 150 feet and came to a stop after it crashed into a guard rail," Ritari said.

To Demand Damages
Ritari will seek payment of damages from Anderson if he has to go to court about it, he said. He has already retained an attorney.

Two men were riding with Ritari at the time of the accident about 6:30 p. m. The Ritari car was en route to Wadena. Occupants of both vehicles escaped with minor hurts.

The Folio drug store was the scene of a holdup last year.

Grave of Civil War Vet Found by Motorist

Sunbury, Pa., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Descendants of Charles Mattern, Snyder County soldier in the Civil War, found his grave in Virginia after a 60-year search.

Harry Laub, Lewistown, motoring through Virginia, saw a familiar Snyder County name on a headstone in a national cemetery at City Point, Va., this summer. It bore the name of "Charles Mattern."

On his return home he inquired whether a soldier of that name had served in the Civil War from this section. His inquiries reached Frank Mattern, son of the long-lost soldier.

Push Search for Six Illinois Bank Robbers

Chicago, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Search for six bandits who threatened instant death to anyone giving an alarm during a $3,000 holdup of the State Bank of River Grove was pressed by police today.

"We'll shoot the first person who tries to give an alarm. This is a stickup," the bandit leader warned as five men entered the bank. A companion stayed in their car as a lookout.

Elkhorn, Wis., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Reorganization of the rules so that members of the house can be put on record will be sought by Thomas R. Amle, Wisconsin's newly elected congressman, when he assumes his duties in Washington, D. C.

A PROGRESSIVE BRAINERD—

Unlike so many other cities, whose business men, merchants and civic leaders have permitted those places to slip into the doldrums of obsolescence, the city of Brainerd can boast of an aggressive type of individualists who believe in progressive action. This thought is born of the succession of remodeling and building projects that have been undertaken in the business district of Brainerd during the last several years.

Strangely enough, few reminders of pioneer Brainerd in the way of old and obsolete store fronts, merchandise displays, etc., are found in the business houses of this city. Only last week the completion of several new store fronts was noticed on Laurel street, removing another of those last few vestiges, several of them decrepit, ramshackle and unsightly structures, from the business section.

It is not unreasonable to believe that as soon as the opportunity presents itself owners of the few remaining buildings whose faces are still cloaked in obsolete and impractical fronts will see to it that they are remodeled in keeping with the trend of the times in Brainerd.

True, fond memories are found in those pioneer days. We are not forgetting that but the general trend demands modernization and to do it now is to create a more appealing invitation to patrons. That is also typical of window displays. If you are content to give no thought to the display of your merchandise what effect do you think it will have upon the people?

Brainerd is not standing still. Neither is it slipping backward by permitting obsolescence to gain a strange hold on it. It is showing unmistakable signs of progress which should have a telling effect upon the few who have failed to envision the necessity of modernization.

ROVING YOUNG MEN—

Although one ordinarily supposes that it is the old men who are most in need of charity in a time of depression, the head of a "wayfarers' lodge" in a large middle western city revealed the other day that most of the wanderers helped by his organization lately have been young men—men under 30, in the vast majority of cases.

Perhaps this is just another reflection of youth's restlessness. When hard times come the old man is apt to find some sort of haven and stick to it. Being wise in the ways of adversity, he lets well enough alone. But the young man is likely to go adventuring and see if he can't better himself by going to some distant field.

In the very nature of things a young man is a rover. A depression simply accentuates it. If his own town has no jobs for him, the next town probably will; if that fails, there are other towns, and in one or another of them, given any luck at all, there will be something doing.

So, after a while the young man finds himself a long way from home, and has to hunt up a breadline and free flop-house. This, at the present time, simply means an added strain for the charitable organizations. Yet this eternal tendency of youth to look for something better on the other side of the next hill can occasionally bring about mighty convulsions in the history of a nation, and no nation has more reasons to know it than the United States.

Who broke through the wilderness and peopled the great west? The young men, restless and dissatisfied in a narrow eastern world where jobs were few and opportunities were hard to grasp. From the beginning of the 19th century onwards, the empty land toward the sunset was a beacon for these "men under 30" who couldn't make a go of it at home.

Like their brothers of 1931, the young men went roving. They were illogical, foolish very often, poorly prepared for the change; but they created a tremendous empire, and today we speak of them as pioneers, and honor them.

Their spirit is moving the young men again. The empty west is gone, and there is no frontier for them to pass. But when they land in the breadlines of strange cities we needn't wag our beards too solemnly. They are simply pioneers in a land that needs pioneers no longer.

Harassed by the activities of testers who are carrying out Iowa's T. B. cow testing statute, irate farmers a few days ago stormed a jail at New London and delivered from behind the bars a farmer youth who had been incarcerated after scoffing at National Guardsmen. Meanwhile, the test goes on and will be continued under martial direction until the work is completed and Iowa is made virtually immune from T. B. contraction from this source for some time.

Judge J. H. Warner, sitting in municipal court, has ably demonstrated that justice can be tempered with mercy. A plea that payment of a fine imposed upon a man for maintaining a nuisance would work a hardship on the prisoner's children won a suspension of the fine for six months.

Prosecution in the trial of Al Capone would have you believe that the Chicago gangster is a "gaudy fop." Whether or not Al is guilty of all that or not is not for us but for the court to decide, but "gaudy fop" or no "gaudy fop," Capone seems to have come to about the end of his reign.

Asa Keyes, ex-Los Angeles county attorney, released after 18 months in jail on a charge of conspiracy, comes out to say that jails don't help anybody. "I don't think it helped me either spiritually, mentally, morally or physically," he said.

Echoes of war time patriotism are sounded in a recent news dispatch which tells that two men serving life sentences for murder in the Minnesota prison ask clemency blaming "war time hysteria" for the heavy terms.

Survey of community chest drives show in most cases that cities have subscribed amounts in excess of their quotas. All of which goes to show that the people are ready and willing to open their hearts and pocketbooks to aid the needy.

Edward Becker, Minneapolis, president of the Northwestern National Bank, has been named to the board of directors of President Hoover's $500,000,000 credit corporation. How the Northwest will be aided through the pool depends practically entirely on Becker.

THE GEMS OF PERIL

JUST now, when it seemed that her happiness had reached its crest, an inexplicable feeling of fear came over her. The world had dropped from beneath her feet once; it might again. Staring into the past with tragic, unseeing eyes, she put her hand to her throat, which ached with pent-up tears.

Dirk tightened his arm about her, sensing her mood.

"Don't cry, little girl," he gibed, "you don't have to marry me. I can always jump off a bridge—or marry Greta Garbo."

That wasn't a tactful thing to say, he realized in dismay even as he said it—that about jumping off a bridge. How had her father done it? Poison, he thought. But Mary laughed—her mood vanished as quickly as it came. Greta Garbo was their name for the girl who had never quite given Dirk up—Cornelia Tabor, of the silk mills. Tabor, who had everything money could buy except Dirk, and didn't like it in the least.

"It's a grand party," Mary remarked with a deep sigh of contentment. "The grandest party in fact that anybody I know has ever had. Mrs. Jupiter must be Santa Claus, to have done all this for me."

Dirk smiled, but he was not too pleased; he was in that stage of love in which he was jealous even of her gratitude. If people were to do things for her, he was the one to do them. Nice of the old lady, surely; but from now on Mary was his.

"Yes," he agreed, after observing his hostess judiciously from a distance. "She looks rather like a Christmas tree from here."

Mary squeezed his hand in quick

time except how lovely she was, and that she was his.

She had stopped speaking for some minutes before he was aware of it. He drew a deep breath and resumed his bantering tone.

"Will you do as much for me sometime?" he asked lightly.

"Of course," Mary laughed, waggling the finger that held her engagement ring under his nose. "Don't I drag this enormous rock around with me all the time though it nearly wrenches my arm off?"

"Don't jeer. Some day I'll turn you loose in the dime store and you can go the limit, my girl!"

Just then Mary caught sight of Spence's silver tchotchke in the hall doorway; his eyes roved the room anxiously. Mary slipped out of Dirk's arms.

"I see Spence over there, an' atwitter about something. I'd better go over. Poor Spence, how he looks like this!"

Dirk recaptured her hand. "Oh, let him stew." He was amiable for a firm. "Some chap's probably given him a lumpy cheek for a bid. He's got over it. Serve him right for giving up a promising career to be a prizefighter in London. Fact."

"When did you and Spence get so chummy?"

"Waiting for you, my love."

Spence by this time had caught Mary's eye, and by violent exercise of the eyebrows conveyed his urgent message to speak to her.

Mary sighed. "I must go see what he wants." It was hard to come down to earth and remember that for all her blarney and bling she was still a paid employee with duties to attend to.

Dirk whirled her away toward where the butter waited. Mary said, "I'll be back in five minutes. Go dance with Cornelia, why don't you? She'd love it," and laughed wickedly at his grimace of distaste.

The butter bent to her ear. "It's Mr. Eddie, Miss Mary. He's on the telephone."

"Eddie? You mean my brother Eddie?" It came into her mind irrelevantly, that it was after midnight. Why should Eddie call her at such an hour?

Dirk moved off obediently. She saw his dark head threading its way among the throng, saw Cornelia leave the man she was talking to and move off with him, looking terribly pleased. Swift, unreasoning jealousy smote her; need he have taken her quite so literally at her word?

She mustn't stand here, being jealous where everybody could see her. What was it she had come over here for? Then she remembered. Putting those two out of her mind, she went toward the telephone, a strange uneasiness clutching at her heart.

She turned away from the telephone with deep misgivings. The few frightened, jerky sentences her brother had gasped out filled her with alarm that grew deeper the more she thought about it.

Something must be very wrong indeed to have upset her brother's cool self-possession in any such manner. If there was anything Mr. Edward Harkness Junior had prided himself on since his prep school days, it was his nonchalance. "A man of the world"—that was Eddie, always. What could have agitated him so?

Letters to Editor

Says Solution Rests With Employers

To the Editor of the Daily Dispatch: Whenever I pick up a newspaper I read how are we going to improve unemployment. We have lots of good men and women right here in Brainerd that need it very bad and they all would like to work if there was work to be gotten. We also have lots of boys and girls that went through the high school, some of them boys and girls supporting their parents. They can't get work. Why don't our law makers make it a rule here in Crow Wing county like they did in Ramsey county where it has been found that many women were drawing down big salaries and their husbands doing the same thing in other lines of pursuit. So what Ramsey county officials did was to lay off the married women and give the jobs to a poor girl or boy that needed it. Right here in our own city or county we have more than half married women holding down jobs while their husbands do the same. In fact I know lots of women and children that draw $100 or more a month while her husband makes $20 a month if we want to help unemployment lets lay off those married women and give the jobs to someone that needs it. Oh yes, God provides for us all so lets do something for our unemployed. There is no need for some good people to go hungry.

Respectfully,
HENRY H. MATISON.

ROASTING CONTROL COMPLETES WORK THAT NATURE BEGINS

Full Charm of Coffee Blend Developed by Hills Bros. Patented Process

Coffee, as it comes from the plantations, is not a finished product. Man must develop the flavor by roasting. Yet very often, man spoils the work that Nature began. For roasting is a delicate task. But there is one method that always roasts to perfection — Controlled Roasting, invented and patented by Hills Bros.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so a perfect, uniform roast is produced by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. This is directly opposite to ordinary methods of roasting in bulk. The advantages are seen, when you drink Hills Bros. Coffee. It has a flavor no other coffee has. For no others are roasted the same way. And the flavor never varies, either!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale! It always tastes fresh wherever and whenever you buy it. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

THE GEMS OF PERIL

JUST now, when it seemed that her happiness had reached its crest, an inexplicable feeling of fear came over her. The world had dropped from beneath her feet once; it might again. Staring into the past with tragic, unseeing eyes, she put her hand to her throat, which ached with pent-up tears.

That wasn't a tactful thing to say, he realized in dismay even as he said it—that about jumping off a bridge. How had her father done it? Poison, he thought. Greta Garbo was their name for the girl who had never quite given Dirk up—Cornelia Tabor, of the silk mills Tabors, who had everything money could buy except Dirk, and didn't like it in the least.

Dirk smiled, but he was not too pleased; he was in that stage of love in which he was jealous even of her gratitude. If people were to do things for her, he was the one to do them. Nice of the old lady, surely; but from now on Mary was his.

"Yes," he agreed, after observing his hostess judiciously from a distance. "She looks rather like a Christmas tree from here."

Mary squeezed his hand in quick pain.

"Don't!" she said. Mrs. Jupiter's manner of dress might be showy even to the point of vulgarity, but Mary's loyalty would not let her admit it, even to Dirk.

"I know you're fond of the old soul," Dirk answered reasonably, "but honestly, where does she get all the doo-dads? And why wear them all at the same time?"

Mary caught a glimpse of her employer's coiffure with its glittering bandeau of diamonds, between the heads of the dancers, and she could imagine the gem-hung expanse below. It was really too bad; people talked about it, and poked fun at her. But Mary, who knew why she did it, felt a twinge of shame that other people could not see it, also. It was not because she was vain or fond of show.

"She doesn't do it because she's silly, or doesn't know any better," Mary defended hotly. "She does it to please Dad. He gave them to her, you know. Those rubies—has she got them on?—are simply priceless. They're heavy to wear and a awful responsibility. She has to keep a constant look-out for thieves. But J. J. is so proud that he's rich enough to give them to her, and all the diamonds and other things, that she wouldn't leave them off for anything in the world."

Dirk was absorbed in watching Mary as she talked; earnestness and the unusual animation of the moment, became her. His amuse-estimate of the Jupiters went down under the force of her admiration, which was both sincere and deep.

LOOKING down into the flushed, serious face of the girl he loved, he forgot everything for a time except how lovely she was, and that she was his.

She had stopped speaking for some minutes before he was aware of it. He drew a deep breath and resumed his bantering tone.

Dirk recaptured her hand. "Oh, let him stew." He was amiable but firm. "Some chap's probably given him a laundry check for a bid. He'll get over it. Serve him right for giving up a promising career to bottle. Did you know Spence used to be a prizefighter in London? Fact."

"When did you and Spence get so chummy?"

"Waiting for you, my love."

Spence by this time had caught Mary's eye, and by violent exercise of the eyebrows conveyed his urgent message to speak to her.

ROASTING CONTROL COMPLETES WORK THAT NATURE BEGINS

Full Charm of Coffee Blend Developed by Hills Bros. Patented Process

Coffee, as it comes from the plantations, is not a finished product. Man must develop the flavor by roasting. Yet very often, man spoils the work that Nature began. For roasting is a delicate task. But there is one method that always roasts to perfection—Controlled Roasting, invented and patented by Hills Bros.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so a perfect, uniform roast is produced by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. This is directly opposite to ordinary methods of roasting in bulk. The advantages are seen, when you drink Hills Bros. Coffee. It has a flavor no other coffee has. For no others are roasted the same way. And the flavor never varies, either!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale! Always fresh wherever and whenever you buy it. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

Says Solution Rests With Employers

To the Editor of the Daily Dispatch: Whenever I pick up a newspaper I read how are we going to improve unemployment. We have lots of good men and women right here in Brainerd that need it very bad and they all would like to work if there was work to be gotten. We also have lots of boys and girls that went through the high school, some of them boys and girls supporting their parents. They can't get work. Why don't our law makers make it a rule here in Crow Wing county like they did in Ramsey county where it has been found that many women were drawing down big salaries and their husbands doing the same thing in other lines of pursuit. So what Ramsey county officials did was to lay off the married women and give the jobs to a poor girl or boy that needed it. Right here in our own city or county we have more than half married women holding down jobs while their husbands do the same. In fact I know lots of women and children that draw $100 or more a month while her husband makes $200 a month if we want to help unemployment lets lay off those married women and give the jobs to someone that needs it. Oh yes, God provides for us all so lets do something for our unemployed. There is no need for some good people to go hungry.

Respectfully,
HENRY H. MATISON.

Sanctity of Indian Graves Upheld by Farmer Near City in Refusing Digging for Historical Interest

Frank Prosser, farmer, lives the ideals of his father—Indian graves as well as white men's must not be disturbed. Peace to their souls, their last resting places shall remain as they were.

This idealistic respect extended today to refusing the Minnesota Historical Society permission to explore and dig on his farm 11 miles southwest of Brainerd on the west side of the Mississippi river, a tract of land rich in state history.

The state society recognizes the property as one of the most profitable historical sites in the state not yet explored.

To date the only information gained of historical value at the Prosser farm is that compiled by Judge L. B. Kinder and Rev. O. L. Bolstad, Brainerd, for the Crow Wing County Historical Society.

The Brainerd historians recently visited Prosser, went over the land but did not dig.

Five mounds mark the final resting places of Indian chieftains, Prosser said. His father, the late Joseph Prosser, bequeathed the property to him and furnished information given him by old Indians, his friends.

Prosser showed Kinder and Bolstad old Canadian and Dutch coins which he had picked up in the soil while plowing. One was a penny piece, dated 1857 and marked Bank of Upper Canada. Another was a Dutch coin, one cent piece, of the year 1863.

The farm is valuable to state history since it was on this property where several trading posts were erected. One land has been associated with trading posts of the years 1761 and 1790.

The county historians traced marks in the soil of what appeared to be the location of stockades erected to protect the post from attacks of the Indians.

The farm is across the river from the famous battle ground of 1869 between Sioux and Chippewa Indians. Five hundred Sioux and 200 Chippewas were slain in that battle, according to the archives of Minnesota history.

TO LIST TIMBER TRACTS AT STATE FORESTRY OFFICE

THOSE WISHING TO BUY STUMP- AGE CAN GET INFORMATION FROM DISTRICT RANGER

With colder weather coming on and numerous men out of employment, the state forestry department is receiving numerous calls in regard to timber stumpage for fuel wood. The department is anxious to assist those who want to buy stumpage by aiding them to get in touch with those who have stumpage for sale, according to E. H. Rhodes, district ranger.

There are, no doubt, many farmers or other land owners in the county who have timber stumpage which they would gladly sell by the tract, the acre or by the load. Others have tracts on which they would give the timber for the cutting and piling of the brush, while still others have timber which can be cut on a share basis.

It is the intention of the Forestry Department to act as a medium through which the persons may get in contact with those who have the stumpage for sale.

Last year the local ranger's office not only arranged to list timber tracts at the forestry office in the city hall, Brainerd, but also arranged with the First National Bank of both Crosby and Ironton, to make local listings at their banks.

In purchasing timber stumpage, be sure to get at least a receipt for money paid. This receipt should designate the forty, section, township and range on which stumpage was purchased. On tracts where more than just a few acres have been purchased, written contracts should be obtained.

It is well to remember before cutting timber to make a written report of cutting to the State Forester, Old Capitol Bldg., St. Paul, Minn., and to post camp buildings on the Northwest corner of each forty.

Brush and slash from timber cutting must be piled in separate, compact piles as timber is cut and burning permits secured of the Forestry Department before any burning is done, Rhodes declared.

Sylvia Verner and

Airplanes Enlisted in Search for Priest

Anchorage, Alaska, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Airplane pilots and Indian trappers have gone to Matanuska valley, in the Chickaloon district, to search for Father George Woodley, Catholic priest reported to have disappeared on a hunting trip.

The priest went hunting with his brother, Arthur G. Woodley, and Dan Kennedy, several days ago. The three became separated and Father Woodley failed to appear, at camp. His brother and Kennedy searched a day and a night without finding trace of him, then sent word here for help.

Father Woodley and his brother flew to Alaska recently, arriving at Fairbanks from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., September 19. They came here and went into the Chickaloon district to hunt big game.

Court Decision on T. B. Cattle Testing Case Soon

Fergus Falls, Minn., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—A decision on the legality of the Ottertail county tuberculosis test will be handed down by the district court late this week, it was indicated today at a hearing on an injunction against the testing.

Opponents of the tuberculosis tests claimed that a petition upon which the test was obtained was obtained fraudulently and although more than 4,000 livestock growers signed the petition the facts of the test were misrepresented to them.

There has been considerable protest against the tests and feeling has run high in the east side of Ottertail county.

Extension of time for razing or removing a condemned house in the rear of the First Methodist church today has been granted Robert T. Campbell, the owner, by George Magnuson, St. Cloud, deputy state fire marshal.

Original order of condemnation issued several weeks ago called for the removal of the late two-story structure by October 15. Campbell has been granted an extension to November 15.

The house is unoccupied and Campbell has agreed to tear it down, according to Magnuson.

THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be.

There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford . . . the joy it puts in motoring.

"I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago.

"In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay."

When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it.

After thousands of miles of driving you will say "it's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars.

Others have tracts on which they would give the timber for the cutting and piling of the brush, while still others have timber which can be cut on a share basis.

It is the intention of the Forestry Department to act as a medium through which the persons may get in contact with those who have the stumpage for sale.

Last year the local ranger's office not only arranged to list timber tracts at the forestry office in the city hall, Brainerd, but also arranged with the First National Bank of both Crosby and Ironton, to make local listings at their banks.

In purchasing timber stumpage, be sure to get at least a receipt for money paid. This receipt should designate the forty, section, township and range on which stumpage was purchased. On tracts where more than just a few acres have been purchased, written contracts should be obtained.

It is well to remember before cutting timber to make a written report of cutting to the State Forester, Old Capitol Bldg., St. Paul, Minn., and to post camp buildings on the Northwest corner of each forty.

Brush and slash from timber cutting must be piled in separate, compact piles as timber is cut and burning permits secured of the Forestry Department before any burning is done, Rhodes declared.

Airplanes Enlisted in Search for Priest

Anchorage, Alaska, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Airplane pilots and Indian trailers have gone to Matanuska valley, in the Chickaloon district, to search for Father George Woodley, Catholic priest reported to have disappeared on a hunting trip.

The priest went hunting with his brother, Arthur G. Woodley, and Dan Kennedy, several days ago. The three became separated and Father Woodley failed to appear, at camp. His brother and Kennedy searched a day and a night without finding trace of him, then sent word here for help.

Father Woodley and his brother flew to Alaska recently, arriving at Fairbanks from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., September 19. They came here and went into the Chickaloon district to hunt big game.

Court Decision on T. B.

Cattle Testing Case Soon

Fergus Falls, Minn., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—A decision on the legality of the Otter-tail county tuberculosis test will be handed down by the district court late this week, it was indicated today at a hearing on an injunction against the testing.

Opponents of the tuberculosis tests claimed that a petition upon which the test was obtained was obtained fraudulently and although more than 4,000 livestock growers signed the petition the facts of the test were misrepresented to them.

There has been considerable protest against the tests and feeling has run high in the east side of Otter-tail county.

"More genuine satisfaction than any car I ever owned"

THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be.

There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford . . . the joy it puts in motoring.

"I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago.

"In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay."

When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it.

After thousands of miles of driving you will say "it's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars.

Officials of both schools conferred late yesterday with Gov. Dan W. Turner who agreed to personally request both conferences to sanction the contest.

CONDITION OF BURDICK WORRIES FRITZ CRISLER

THRONGS CHEER GOPHERS UPON RETURN LAST NIGHT FROM CALIFORNIA

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—University of Minnesota football players worked out today in preparation for their first Big Ten game against Purdue a week from Saturday. The Gophers arrived last night from California, where they lost to Stanford, 13-0.

Cheering throngs greeted the team when it arrived. The band played Minnesota songs as the train pulled into the Great Northern station.

The condition of Quentin Burdick, who was injured in the game ten days ago with Oklahoma A. & M. team, caused Coach Fritz Crisler some concern. The halfback whose home is Williston, N. D., displayed splendid ability in that game and the Gophers would be seriously crippled if Burdick is unable to start against Purdue.

Columbus, O., Oct. 14.—The first changes made in the Ohio State team in preparation for the Michigan game have sent Gillman to end in place of Rabenstein and Bell to tackle instead of Baumgarten. Carroll probably will take over Capt. Holcomb's place at halfback.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 14.—Confident that Bradley will give the Illinois varsity little trouble Saturday, Coach Bob Zuppke is experimenting with his lineup in order to get the strongest possible combination ready for the homecoming game against Michigan Oct. 24.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 14.—New plays especially designed for the Purdue game made long gains for the Wisconsin varsity in yesterday's drill. The Badgers, however, appeared weak against passes on the defense.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 14.—Ed Risk, Purdue halfback and leading ground gainer of the Big Ten last year, who had to leave the Illinois game last week because of illness, will be in better shape for the Wisconsin game on Saturday.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 14.—Although Northwestern broke Notre Dame's string of 20 straight victories by last week's scoreless tie, the Irish found a new record today to spur them on against Drake. Back in 1911, 1912 and 1913 when the late Knute Rockne played left end, the Irish won 20 out of 22 games, tying the other two. The present team has 20 victories and one tie to its credit and can set a new mark by defeating Drake.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 14.—Coach Dick Hanley will stand pat on his present backfield of Potter, Meenana, Rentner and Olson. The smallest of this group is 6 feet, 2 inch in height, while Olson, the tallest, is 6 feet, 2 1/2 inches. Howard Kostbade and Louis Struening, sophomore ends who have been injured, are back on the squad.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 14.—Although five regulars—Auer, Samuels, Hozer, LaJeunesse and Newman—are nursing minor injuries, all of them are expected to play against Ohio State on Saturday. Westover, Fay, Jack Heston and Hudson practiced in the backfield yesterday.

Iowa City, Iowa, Oct. 14.—Coach Burt Ingwersen has given the Iowa squad a new set of spinner plays, featuring deception, for use against Indiana Saturday. Randall Hickman, star back who has been nursing an injured ankle, limbered up yesterday but did not take part in practice.

DEAN OF COACHES DE VICES NEW SHIFT PLAY TO USE AGAINST YALE ELEVEN

Chicago, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, dean of all living football coaches and inventor of the shift play, has devised a new offensive play in his 40th year as University of Chicago mentor and plans to introduce it against Yale this week.

Stagg has cherished his new play since last spring, and had hoped to employ it against Michigan last week, but a last minute disruption of the Chicago backfield caused him to abandon the innovation.

The Maroons backs have had plenty of time this week to develop the new offensive, and it will be used against Stagg's alma mater in Yale's first invasion of the middle-west. Coach Stagg is confident that the new plan will enable the Maroons to score at least one touchdown.

Since 1892 when Stagg became football coach and athletic director at Chicago, his football teams have won 251 games, lost 106 and played 26 ties. His lean years started in 1926 when a change in administration limited the incoming freshmen. Many of the players on this year's team never played high school football.

Stagg was a great football coach when the late Knute Rockne was only 3 years old and had not yet migrated from Norway. Bob Zuppke, of Illinois, was still in grammar school. Noble Kizer, Purdue, Burt Ingwersen, Iowa, Harry Kipke, Michigan, and Fritz Crisler, Minnesota, had not yet been born.

With Paul Stagg back at quarterback, and Vinson Sahlin, a midsize back who is expected to rival Albie Booth's play, recovered from a back injury, the Maroons will place their most formidable offense of the season in the field. Pete Zimmer and Bob Wallace, another fleet runner, will complete the backfield. These players have been thoroughly schooled in Stagg's new offensive weapon.

Guard Negro Held in Slaying Against Mob

Snow Hill, Md., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—A squad of Maryland police stood guard here today over an aged negro while Snow Hill and all Worcester county seethed with anger over the axe murder of a Berlin farmer and his wife and two daughters.

Orphan Jones, 60, the prisoner, was brought here under heavy guard after a mob of enraged farmers had formed in the little village of Berlin, shouting "Lynch him! String him up!" He was arrested in Ocean City, Md., yesterday following discovery of the bodies of rGeen Davis, 65, his wife, Ivy, 48, and their daughters Elizabeth, 15, and Mary Lee, 13.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 14.—A squad of 33 men will leave tomorrow for Iowa City for Indiana's first Big Ten game under its new coach, E. C. Kayes. With Zeller and Mylec, guards, and Stevenson, tackle, back in the lineup, the Hoosiers' chances look good for a victory over Iowa.

GOOD HUNTING ASSURED FUTURE YEARS; PHEASANT COVEYS INCREASE IN COUNTY

Hunters in this county who plan to trail Chinese ringneck pheasants in the open season this year will pass up many of the birds along Crow Wing county highways to reach their hunting grounds.

The closed seasons on pheasants in this county are producing the necessary results. Sportsmen report more pheasants in the county this season than for several years past.

Crow Wing county is not included in the 48 counties of the state where hunting the birds is permitted by law this year.

Open season Oct. 17-26

The open season will be between 12 o'clock noon, Oct. 17 to the hour of sunset, Oct. 26, inclusive. Counties open to taking of Chinese ringneck or English pheasants are: Traverse, Grant, Big Stone, Stevens, Swift, Chippewa, Lac qui Parle, Yellow Medicine, Lincoln, Lyon, Redwood, Pipestone, Murray, Cottonwood, Rock, Noble, Jackson, Brown, Watonwan, Martin, Faribault, Freeborn, Mower, Dodge, Steele, Waseca, Blue Earth, Le Sueur, Rice, Scott, Pope, Kandiyohi, Renville, Meeker, McLeod, Sibley, Nicollet, Wright, Carver, Hennepin, Anoka, Washington, Dakota, Goodhue, Olmsted, Winona, Fillmore and Houston. Bag limits: Chinese ringneck or English pheasants; not to exceed three per day, one of which may be a female; not to exceed twelve birds in possession at any one time, and not to exceed eighteen birds for the season.

Partridge, Quail Closed

"The season on Ruffed Grouse or Partridge and Quail will be closed in Minnesota this year."

This order has been decided upon after making a careful survey of the state, and it is thought that if the numbers of these birds are not depleted this year, they will have an opportunity to appear, with increasing abundance so as to warrant an open season in succeeding years."

STAGE MOCK ACCIDENT

Chicago, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Two automobiles collided in Grant park near Michigan boulevard today in view of delegates to the national safety congress. The drivers slumped as though injured. Traffic experts ran forward with tape-lines and took measurements.

It was all carefully staged to give the 7,000 delegates to the congress a visual application of the problem of preventing traffic accidents.

Precautions had been taken so the "accident" would be safe.

Mastro Whips Shaw Winning Every Round

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Every punch in a modern fighter's repertoire was lavished by Earl Mastro, Chicago featherweight, upon the head and body of Billy Shaw of Detroit in the main event of a fight card last night but although Mastro won every round he was unable to stop the courageous Detroit.

Mastro weighed 125 and Shaw 128 pounds.

Shaw was forced to undergo a terrific beating against which he was impotent and Mastro left the ring with hardly a mark on him. Mastro showed speed and ability to punch accurately with both hands from any position.

Walter Wohlwend, 176, Lake City heavyweight prospect, piled up a long margin of points during the first two rounds against Jack McCann, 194, of Elsmarck, N. D., but tired during the later rounds of a six round bout and was overtaken by McCann.

There was no agreement between sports experts on which fighter deserved the decision but the majority gave Wohlwend a shade.

Paul Wangley, 127, Minneapolis featherweight, knocked out Eddie Smith, 128 1/2, St. Paul negro, in the first round of their scheduled four round preliminary contest. Another negro, Ace of Spades, 153, Wolf Point, Mont., outpointed the popular Red Haggerty, 152, of Bemidji. Harry Greb, 152, Minneapolis, drew with Paddy Aaron, 153 1/2, Eau Claire, Wis.

Johnny Early, Minneapolis, 133, shaded Walt Hobot, St. Thomas college, St. Paul, 140, in four rounds.

Body of Carpenter Found by Lodge Caretakers

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Caretakers today found the body of Alvin Fleiness, 36, carpenter, near the summer home of B. G. Dahlberg on Rainy Lake, apparently a drowning victim.

Coroner Amos Hansen said there would be no inquest. Funeral services will be conducted at Zion Lutheran church tomorrow under the auspices of the William Robideau Post of the American Legion.

Fleiness was an Odd Fellow. He is survived by his parents in Norway.

IT'S STILL A GOOD NAME

Menasha, Wis., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Connie Mack has lost the world series, but he will retain the honor of having a street named after him (even if it is spelled wrong), according to citizens of Menasha.

Konemac street in Menasha was given its name years ago by baseball fans who admired the Philadelphia baseball manager.

"It's still a good name, world's series or no world's series," declared one resident in affirming that it will not be changed.

Six Injured When Tram Hits Railway Snowplow

Florence, Colo., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—When sons were injured seriously when a northbound street railway snowplow sideswiped a southbound trolley car on Main street here today.

About 30 other persons suffered minor cuts and bruises, and shock. Fire from fallen wires caused a panic. Several women fainted, while others were pushed down.

DEAN OF COACHES DE VICES NEW SHIFT PLAY TO USE AGAINST YALE ELEVEN

Chicago, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, dean of all living football coaches and inventor of the shift play, has devised a new offensive play in his 40th year as University of Chicago mentor and plans to introduce it against Yale this week.

Stagg has cherished his new play since last spring, and had hoped to employ it against Michigan last week, but a last minute disruption of the Chicago backfield caused him to abandon the innovation.

The Maroons backs have had plenty of time this week to develop the new offensive, and it will be used against Stagg's alma mater in Yale's first invasion of the middle-west. Coach Stagg is confident that the new plan will enable the Maroons to score at least one touchdown.

Since 1892 when Stagg became football coach and athletic director at Chicago, his football teams have won 251 games, lost 100 and played 26 ties. His lean years started in 1926 when a change in administration limited the incoming freshmen. Many of the players on this year's team never played high school football.

Stagg was a great football coach when the late Knute Rockne was only 3 years old and had not yet migrated from Norway. Bob Zuppke, of Illinois, was still in grammar school. Noble Kizer, Purdue, Burt Ingwersen, Iowa, Harry Kipke, Michigan, and Fritz Crisler, Minnesota, had not yet been born.

With Paul Stagg back at quarterback, and Vinson Sahlin, a midget back who is expected to rival Albie Booth's play, recovered from a back injury, the Maroons will place their most formidable offense of the season in the field. Pete Zimmer and Bob Wallace, another fleet runner, will complete the backfield. These players have been thoroughly schooled in Stagg's new offensive weapon.

Guard Negro Held in Slaying Against Mob

Snow Hill, Md., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—A squad of Maryland police stood guard here today over an aged negro while Snow Hill and all Worcester county seethed with anger over the axe murder of a Berlin farmer and his wife and two daughters.

Orphan Jones, 60, the prisoner, was brought here under heavy guard after a mob of enraged farmers had formed in the little village of Berlin, shouting "Lynch him! String him up!" He was arrested in Ocean City, Md., yesterday following discovery of the bodies of Green Davis, 55, his wife, Ivy, 48, and their daughters Elizabeth, 15, and Mary Lee, 13.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 14.—A squad of 33 men will leave tomorrow for Iowa City for Indiana's first Big Ten game under its new coach, E. C. Kayes. With Zeller and Mylec, guards, and Stevenson, tackle, back in the lineup, the Hoosiers' chances look good for a victory over Iowa.

PRONOUNCED DEAD 3 TIMES

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Harry Painter has been pronounced dead three times, but said he was planning to work again soon.

Painter, a printer, came into contact with a 220-volt wire on his linotype machine. He fell to the floor, apparently dead.

A fellow employee called the power company. A life-saving crew rushed to the print shop and had Painter revived in eight minutes. He was started to a hospital in an ambulance and on the way stopped breathing.

The life-saving crew worked frantically as the machine rushed through city streets and had Painter breathing again when the hospital was reached. But when he was taken to a room his breathing again had stopped and he had to be revived once more. He stayed revived.

Mastro Whips Shaw Winning Every Round

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—(U.P.)—Every punch in a modern fighter's repertoire was lavished by Earl Mastro, Chicago featherweight, upon the head and body of Billy Shaw of Detroit in the main event of a fight card last night but although Mastro won every round he was unable to stop the courageous Detroit.

Mastro weighed 125 and Shaw 128 pounds.

Shaw was forced to undergo a terrific beating against which he was impotent and Mastro left the ring with hardly a mark on him. Mastro showed speed and ability to punch accurately with both hands from any position.

Walter Wohlwend, 176, Lake City heavyweight prospect, piled up a long margin of points during the first two rounds against Jack McCann, 194, of Bismarck, N. D., but tired during the later rounds of a six round bout and was overtaken by McCann.

There was no agreement between sports experts on which fighter deserved the decision but the majority gave Wohlwend a shade.

Paul Wangley, 127, Minneapolis featherweight, knocked out Eddie Smith, 128½, St. Paul negro, in the first round of their scheduled four round preliminary contest. Another negro, Ace of Spades, 153, Wolf Point, Mont., outpointed the popular Red Haggerty, 152, of Bemidji. Harry Greb, 152, Minneapolis, drew with Paddy Aaron, 153½, Eau Claire, Wis.

Johnny Early, Minneapolis, 133, shaded Walt Hobot, St. Thomas college, St. Paul, 140, in four rounds.
